WHY STUDY AT DAEMEN

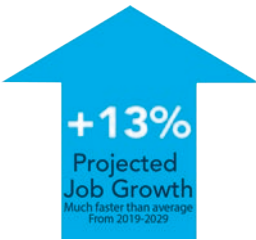

Daemen College's Institute for Government and Non-Profit Innovation, Training, and Evaluation offers high quality, affordably priced, community-based research, training, and technical assistance services.

Faculty and students work collaboratively with organizations to help build their capacity to respond to continuously evolving funding and regulatory climates. IGNITE services promote ongoing improvement to programs, organizations, systems, and communities.

- Student learning focuses on the development of social work competencies related to critical thinking, diversity, understanding of human behavior, use of research, and advocacy for social, environmental, and economic justice.
- Daemen students participate in a 420-hour internship where they work directly with social work clients and/or in the community while learning from professionals.
- Service learning opportunities are available locally and internationally with children living in poverty, refugee families, persons with disabilities, and senior citizens among others.
- Personal attention and one-on-one advisement regarding coursework and career opportunities is a hallmark of this program.
- Well-qualified graduates are eligible to earn a master's degree in social work within one year through advanced entry opportunities.

Professional social workers are the nation's largest providers of mental health services.
