MASTER OF

Social Work

Pursue a meaningful career on the front lines of social change in human services and clinical social work practice while learning to understand and transform government agencies, nonprofit community groups, and social policy in our Council on Social Work Education (CSWE)-accredited online Master of Social Work (MSW) program.

UAlbany's nationally ranked MSW prepares you for a profession focused on improving individual and societal well-being with enduring commitments to social and economic justice. Our graduates are change agents who assess and address needs of individuals, families and groups, and lead social and human services organizations.

The online program consists of a 60-credit curriculum which is spread over three years. Courses in the program are asynchronous, except for social work field practicums.

FIELD PRACTICUM

Students complete two 500-hour in-person field practicums over the course of four semesters. Participation in the credit-bearing practicum occurs two days per week during typical business hours at approved agencies, and supervision is provided by a qualified social worker.

HOW TO APPLY

Submit the following:
