

Victoria (Vicky) M. Rizzo, Ph.D., LCSW-R is Professor and Interim Dean, School of Social Welfare, University at Albany and an LCSW-R with more than 30 years' experience as a social work practitioner, educator, policy advocate, and researcher. She is also the President of the Board of Directors, NASW-NYS Chapter. Vicky is dedicated to demonstrating the value of social work in health care settings and community-based organizations and the implications for health care policy and the financing of social work services.

Dan Pepitone JD. Dan Pepitone is an attorney who helps small businesses, primarily mental health practices and creatives. Dan helps with business entity formation, practice documents, advice and counsel on scope of practice, client issues, telehealth, employees and independent contractors, and more. Prior to starting his private practice in 2021, Dan spent 14 years working at a nonprofit law firm, Manhattan Legal Services.

